WHEREAS, fire is a serious public safety concern both locally and nationally, and homes are the locations where people are at most significant risk from fire; and

WHEREAS, wildfire significantly impacts California's environmental, economic and social well-being; and

WHEREAS, residents of California's fire-prone communities need to accept responsibility for living in high fire-hazard areas; and

WHEREAS, residents should practice the home fire escape plan with everyone in the household, including visitors; and

WHEREAS, residents should get out and stay out, never going back inside the home for people, pets, or things; and

WHEREAS, residents must prepare to survive wildfire by ensuring proper management of vegetation surrounding the home and appropriate home construction and maintenance to resist ignition; and

WHEREAS, wildfires can occur during any month; and

WHEREAS, Studies show that measures taken at home and in the area within 100 feet of it, known as the Home Ignition Zone (HIZ), significantly minimize damage and loss.
